

From: [REDACTED]
To: FN-OMB-IntellectualProperty
Subject: Comments on the Joint Strategic Plan
Date: Monday, March 22, 2010 6:04:02 PM

---

Victoria Espinel
Intellectual Property Enforcement Coordinator
Office of Management and Budget
Executive Office of the President
Filed via email

Dear Ms. Espinel:

- 1) Current copyright laws are very bad. I believe that for books and music, they should be for only five years plus the life of the author. Let's get the art into the hands of the people.
- 2) Any enforcement of copyright law should demand proof of actual loss. For example, a copyright holder who allows the work to go out of print should lose all right to reimbursement from a pirate.

Sincerely yours,

Russell Moon
Four Oaks, North Carolina