Dear Ms. Espinel:

I am writing you as a concerned citizen. You received an email from a concerned blogger named Michael Masnick who writes for www.techdirt.com.

I concur with everything Mike says in his email. He's an expert on the subject and documents all of his claims - something which cannot be said about those who would ask for stronger copyright protections.

Please do not strengthen our copyright laws. It's completely unnecessary and counterproductive.

Thank you,
Ben Smith
