You asked for comments.

Here are mine..

Before doing anything else bring "ACTA" out into the open.
If the president tries to ram this through with "executive order" I will not vote for him again and I would definitely support his removal from office before his current term is done.

Lets get this all out in the open and quit letting the "big" entertainment entities play their games.
They know that they would be laughed out of the building if this sort of stuff was put before our legislators.
Mr Obama... Don't think for a minute that their money and promises can carry you through any kind of public scrutiny on this issue.

On the request for comments you put down..... "threats to public health and safety created by infringement."
Are you Kidding me???
This just reflects to me how truly screwed up Washington "still" is.

I'm not seeing any "CHANGE" yet.
