Ms. Espinel and the Obama Administration --

The Copyright Alliance has informed me of this welcome invitation from the Obama Administration to share my thoughts on my rights as a creator. As a recent art school graduate and emerging professional artist it is important that I know my ideas and creative endeavors are protected. Without my original ideas I wouldn't have a career. Without original ideas artists in general wouldn't have careers. The poaching and exploiting of intellectual property undermines not only my livelihood, but viability in the marketplace and future career as well. By strengthening and enforcing copyright infringement penalties the U.S. government can protect artists and other creatives.
