

Hurricane Ivan, Atmore, AL, September 2004.

Buildings totally destroyed

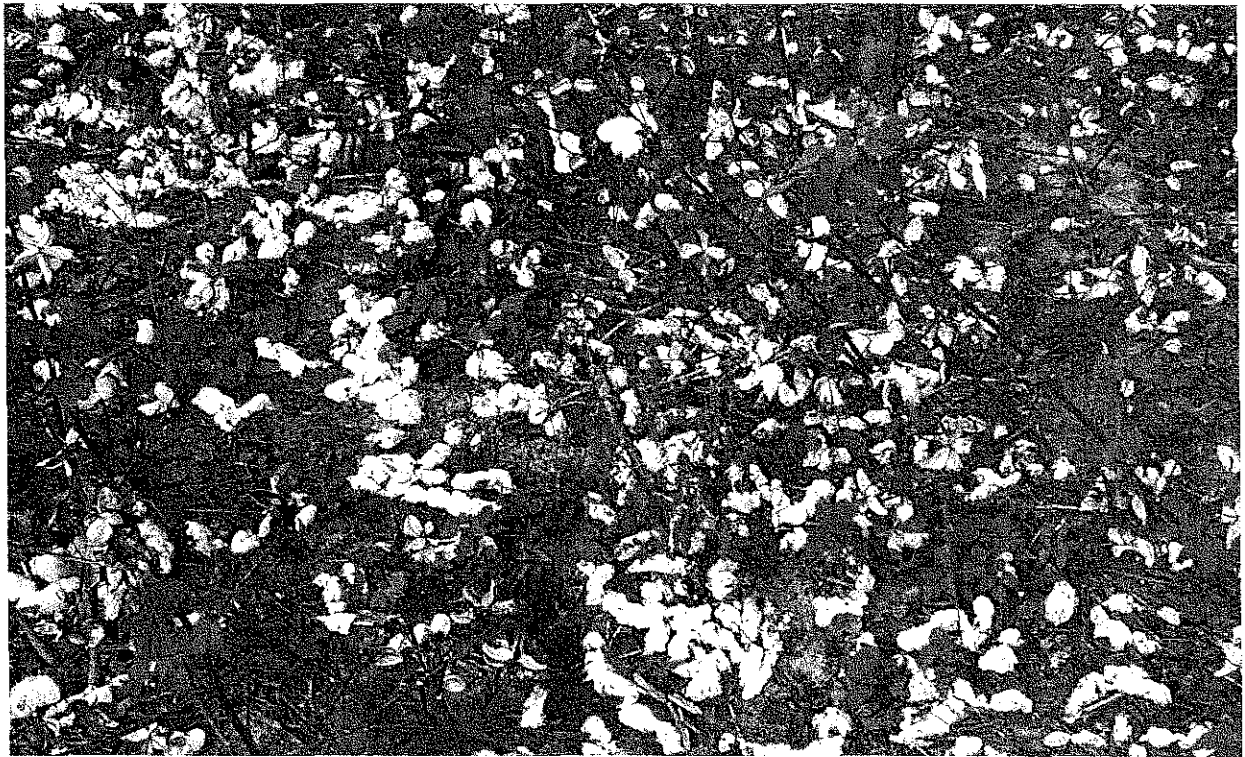

A huge pecan tree uprooted.

Pine trees snapped like match sticks

Cotton crop on the ground, as was the corn crop

Not a single stalk of Arundo broken. This was not a very dense stand because it was young, and had been planted with cane that had dried out too much, not rhizomes.